

PRIME MINISTER

MESSAGE FROM THE PRIME MINISTER

COURT GRAMMAR SCHOOL
SIR CHARLES COURT ASSEMBLY 2019

As Prime Minister, I offer my warmest wishes to the Court Grammar School community as you gather for this year's Sir Charles Court Assembly.

This occasion provides an opportunity to celebrate the remarkable achievements the school has made since it opened in 2006, extending the gift of high quality education to young West Australians.

The School's core values of "integrity, humility, community" are reflected in its dedication to equipping students with the ideals that will guide them, each in their own way, to stand for the things that make a real difference.

This is education as it should be: values-driven, looking to the future and putting our students first.

I know you all have great pride in the wonderful things the school has achieved, and now that you reach a new stage in the School's journey, I am equally confident there will be even greater things to come.

Sir Charles Court, himself a great believer in the value of education, would be deeply honoured to know his example of leadership and service is providing inspiration for new generations.

In particular, I send my best wishes to those students receiving their Leadership Badges today. While it is the responsibility of all to live out your three core values, leaders have a special role to play in their communities to demonstrate integrity and humility.

As you gather for this year's Assembly, I pay tribute to the staff and students of Court Grammar and the whole community who have taken a great school and will make it even better.

My warmest wishes for today and for the future.

A blue ink signature, likely of Scott Morrison, written in a cursive style.

The Hon Scott Morrison MP
Prime Minister of Australia

5 February 2019